

CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH IN ORPHAN ASYLUM FIRE

Between Twenty and Thirty Inmates of the Hubbell Orphan's Home at Rochester, N. Y., Killed.

LARGE NUMBER OF DEAD WERE INFANTS

Panic Followed the Flames and Many Jumped From the Windows to Death—Nurses and Employees Behaved Bravely in the Rescue Work.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Not since the holocaust of the Lantern Works fire in '88 has such an awful catastrophe afflicted Rochester as the fire early this morning which destroyed the orphan asylum in Hubbell park.

Shortly before one o'clock Mrs. Cline, nurse in the Potter annex, smelled smoke which was located in the boiler room by the matron who had been aroused. Three alarms were immediately sent in, but before the arrival of the fire department the flames ran rapidly throughout the building.

Rescue the Little Ones.
The neighbors for blocks around rushed to the rescue of the little ones whose escape by stairways had been cut off. The windows were crowded with persons whose agonized faces urged the rescuers to hasten with beds and blankets to catch those who jumped. Many took the leap, some from the third story.

One woman miscalculated the distance and crashed to the pavement a corpse. Many suffered broken limbs from the fall, those holding blankets being unable to maintain a sufficient rigidity.

The firemen on their arrival ran up ladders to windows and roof and began carrying down children.

Only a Blackened Corpse.
Body after body however was only a blackened corpse.

The living and dead were laid on the floors, couches and beds. In one house a dozen dead bodies were lying at one time. Ambulances soon arrived and the wounded were speedily taken to the hospitals. At ten o'clock sixteen bodies had arrived at the morgue and it is expected that the number will be increased to twenty-five or thirty.

The nurses and employees behaved most bravely some of the former being frantically burned in their efforts to see their charges safely out.

PANIC FOLLOWS THE FLAMES.
Many Infants Burned to Death in Orphan Asylum Fire.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Between twenty and thirty children are dead and at least forty injured, many so badly they cannot recover, as a result of a fire which wrecked the Hubbell orphan asylum in this city since midnight. The debris of the building still is burning fiercely, so it is impossible to learn the real number of victims. There were 180 inmates, and nearly all had to leap from the windows. Many were taken to nearby houses, and as the names of these have not all been reported it is impossible to learn the identity of those who perished.

Building a Flimsy Structure.
The asylum was a three story building, located on the corner of Hubbell Park and Exchange streets. It was a frail structure, with wings extending on either side. The fire was discovered in the main building, the hospital section, of the asylum at 1 a. m. by two men who were passing. None of the inmates had at that time been awakened, although the flames already had made considerable progress. One of the men ran to turn in an alarm while the other broke in the door and shouted to those within.

Panic Among Children.
In a minute panic reigned, the little ones rushing helplessly about, not knowing which way to turn. The nurses and attendants did all in their power, but they were too few to carry out any great number of the children. Before much progress was made in the work of rescue a terrific explosion was heard, and in a moment the entire hospital section was in flames. On the arrival of the fire apparatus a general alarm was sent in, calling out the entire department. The smoke began to pour out of every window in the wing building, and the screams and frantic cries of the children could be heard.

Infants Hurled from Windows.
When the firemen who responded to a general alarm arrived the inmates were jumping from the windows and the attendants were throwing the helpless infants out of the windows regardless of where they might fall. The largest number of dead is among the infants ranging in age from 1 to 3 and 4 years. The injured and the dead were carried to houses in the neighborhood. There are twelve dead in one house, three or four in another, and a dozen injured in another. The number of injured is believed to be more than forty, and some of them will die. The fire is still burning, but it is believed the inmates who are yet alive have been taken out. Hospital ambulances are carrying away the injured from the houses where they were taken to the hospitals. The fire originated in the furnace room, and it is believed the explosion was caused by escaping gas.

Five Perish in a Fire.
Lewiston, N. Y., Jan. 8.—The residence of Edward H. Taylor at Model City, was burned this morning. Taylor, his wife and three small children perished in the flames.

Mistaken Signals—Two Dead.
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—A misunderstanding of signals yesterday caused the instant death of two men in No. 1 mine of the Brazil company. David Jones and George Hayes entered the cage to descend. The engineer hoisted the cage instead of lowering it. This broke the cable and men and cage were hurled 160 feet down the shaft.

Revolution Dying Out.
Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 8.—The steamship Costa Rica, arrived here today from Colon, bringing dispatches which state that the revolution in Colombia is waning. The rebel leader Uribe is supported by 2,000 desperate followers, whom the government troops can neither defeat nor disperse.

Plan a Doom for Kidnapers.
Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 8.—The bill being drafted in this state against kidnaping will provide life imprisonment or death at the discretion of the court, for kidnaping any person under 21 years of age.

The bill does not apply to cases where parents abduct their own children.

Count Lamsdorf Is Chosen.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 8.—Count Lamsdorf has been definitively appointed minister of foreign affairs. The count has satisfactorily accomplished work preliminary to the position.

Carl Morton Dead.
Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 8.—Carl Morton, president and manager of the United States Sugar Refinery here, died this morning of pneumonia, after a week's illness.

EXILE FOR FILIPINOS.

Gen. MacArthur Orders Deportation of Del Pilar.

Manila, Jan. 8.—Gen. MacArthur has ordered the deportation of Gen. Riquelme, Del Pilar, Hizon, Llanera and Santos to the Island of Guam. Nine regimental and four subordinate officers, with eight civilians, including Trias, Tesson and Mabini, notorious assistants of the insurrectionists, have also been ordered to be deported. It is Gen. MacArthur's intention to hold most of the active leaders of the rebel, who have been captured at Guam until the resumption of a condition of peace has been declared. The first municipal election was held successfully at Baguio, Province of Benguet, Saturday. The Igorrotes took part in the election. The Filipinos in Manila have been enjoying recently a novel experience, in the holding of free, open political meetings. Most of the addresses at these meetings were made by former officers of the insurgents, all of whom asserted that the best way of securing personal liberty is to accept the liberties guaranteed by the constitution and government of the United States, which is what American sovereignty stands for. The audiences were greatly interested and many of those attending the meetings signed the federal party declaration. The construction of a rebel prison at Olongapo, in addition to those at Manila, will be begun shortly.

BRYAN WILL STAND BY HIS PLATFORM

Says He Would Rather Continue to Lose Than Surrender Any of His Convictions.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 8.—At the Jacksonian banquet here last night, W. J. Bryan who responded to the toast "Democracy," asserted that he was by no means out of politics, and that each following candidate would find him arrayed on the side of democracy. "I would rather continue to lose," said he, "than to surrender any of the principles for which we have fought. The situation was as dark in 1872 as now, but we honestly won in 1876. We are still in the right. The platform that was right when written in Kansas City is right now."

Referring to party reorganization Mr. Bryan said: "When a man is divorced from his wife he no longer looks after the welfare of his wife until he is re-married to her."

Mr. Bryan predicted a regeneration of the party and a victory in 1904.

IN SNOWDRIFTS FOR A WEEK.

Three Canadian Pacific Trains Lost in Western Manitoba.

Brandon, Manitoba, Jan. 8.—Three Canadian Pacific trains were lost on the Arcoia branch in western Manitoba. A passenger train left Brandon, but after passing Mauer became snowbound in the drifts, which are fifteen to twenty feet deep. A snow plow and engine were sent out to bring the express back. It too, was tied up with snow, and a third engine was sent to the rescue which met with a similar fate.

The three trains remained buried in the huge drifts for a week and were not released until the farmers for twenty miles around had formed themselves into a shovel brigade. This morning the worn-out crews with their frozen up trains returned to the city. For three days the mercury has been ranging from 35 to 8 degrees below. No deaths have occurred, but hundreds of persons have frozen noses and ears.

RISK THEIR HEADS FOR PEACE IN CHINA

PRINCE CHING AND LI HUNG CHANG WILL SIGN NOTE.

They Will Disregard the Latest Decree by the Empress and Thereby Put Their Lives in Peril—Court Notified That the Promises Made Must Be Kept.

Peking, Jan. 8.—Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang have been presented with the identical agreements of the powers arranging the preliminary peace terms, and have both declared their intention of signing them even if it costs them their heads. They received a decree on Saturday peremptorily directing them not to sign the preliminary note unless the demands for the raising of the Taku forts, the establishment of permanent foreign military posts between Peking and the sea, and of legation guards at Peking, and for the prohibition of arms in China are stricken out. After a conference, at which they went over the whole situation, they determined, in spite of the order of the Dowager Empress, to sign the note. After the decision to sign the note anyway, Prince Ching took steps to hasten the ministers, so that the document could be signed and the subsequent negotiations approached. The determination of the Ministers to sign despite the decree is an exhibition of courage, in view of the fact that disobedience of a decree of this nature is always punishable by death.

Notify Court of Action.

Yesterday Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang telegraphed to the Dowager Empress repeating their arguments in favor of signing the note, and pointing out the impossibility of China making any resistance to the demands. They added that they had received the first edict directing the acceptance of the terms, and ordering them to sign the note. They had communicated this to the powers, which in itself constituted an acceptance which it was now impossible to revoke.

Fourth—Adoption of regulations encouraging Chinese investments in foreign concerns. Fifth—Steps extending China's exports and imports. Sixth—Protection of trade marks. Seventh—The protection of treaty ports. The draft has not been accepted by the powers and discussion regarding it has been postponed. Chinese court officials, it is reported, still raise objections to signing an acceptance of the joint demands.

Thinks Russia Is Acting Fairly.

London, Jan. 8.—The British foreign office considered the reported agreement between Russia and China regarding the Manchurian province of Feng Tien as probably referring to military measures of a temporary character. A sister of charity, writing from the Maison de Jesus Enfant at Ning-Po on Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Nan King of 100 little boys. "Some of them," she says, "were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned."

DENIES STATEMENT.

Prof. A. B. Hart Calls Stako-Burning Punishment No Deterrent.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8.—Prof. Albert B. Hart of Harvard, in explanation of his speech delivered recently at Detroit, Mich., said last night: "The statement that I advocated burning at the stake as a legal penalty for colored men's crimes comes from a wrong impression of my views. I never made such an assertion. My opinion is exactly the opposite. I believe that lynchings are a return to the cruelties of medieval trials. Burning at the stake is not a deterrent of crime, but a brutalizing of the whole population—white and black. And the south shows its horror of it by refusing to make it legal. If the people of the south or any community demand burning at the stake as a penalty for committing horrible crimes, the state should make burning the legal penalty."

For some time it has been believed that Mr. Hill would shortly become a St. Paul director."

COLONEL LAING IS KILLED.

Boers Catch Gen. Knox's Men in a Red-hot Corner.

London, Jan. 8.—Gen. Kitchener reports another deadly "regrettable incident," in which three British officers and fifteen men have been killed and two officers and twenty men wounded. The list of killed includes Lieut.-Col. Laing, whose brilliant services during the war make his loss especially grievous. Meager accounts are to hand concerning this latest exhibition of the effectiveness of Boer warfare. The incident took place near Lindley, where a detachment of Charles Knox's bodyguard, 120 strong, wandered into a red-hot corner and narrowly escaped annihilation. Their assailants appear to have been part of Gen. De Wet's force which was lately reported as moving northward between Kroonstad and Bethlehem.

Boers Are Driven Back.

London, Jan. 8.—Reporting to the war office, under date of Jan. 6, Lord Kitchener says: "Yesterday Babington engaged Delarey's and Steenkamp's commandos at Naauwpoort. The enemy was forced to retire to the northwest. Our casualties have not yet been received, but are reported slight. A Boer doctor admitted that twenty Boers were killed or wounded. Commandant Duprez was taken prisoner."

"It appears from reports of the wounded who have arrived at Helibron that a detachment 120 strong, belonging to Knox's command, came into contact with a superior force near Lindley. I regret to say that Lieut. Laing, two other officers and fifteen men were killed and two officers and twenty men wounded. No details have come from Knox of this action."

WILL TRY TO SAVE THE LAND OFFICE

DEMAND FOR THE REPEAL OF STATUTE ABOLISHING IT.

Bill Will Probably Be Introduced Early in the Session to Repeal the Present Law and Reestablish the Land Office as a Separate Department.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 8.—The state land office officially ceased to be today though the full force of clerks is at work as usual, and the office presents the ordinary appearance. Under the law of 1899 the land office was abolished today and becomes a part of the department of state, with three clerks to do the work.

The office will continue to occupy the old quarters in the north wing of the capitol and the land commissioners will meet today to appoint the three clerks who are to carry on the work. It is expected that an effort will be made at the session of the legislature this winter to have the land office brought to life again, and the end of the session may see a restoration of the old order of things.

The report of the land commissioners which is now in the hands of the state printer recommends the repeal of the act of 1899 abolishing the office, and it is said that a bill will be introduced early in the session for that purpose.

The wreck on the San Augustin was on Nov. 27, but the first news of it was brought here by the Coya. The Spanish steamer, in command of Capt. Suarez, left Coronel, in Chile, for Punta Arenas on Nov. 22, five days before she struck the rocks in Smith channel. The boats landed the passengers and crew, who were composed of Spanish and Chileans. On the rocky islet they had to remain two days before they were rescued by the Coya's men. The pirates who swarm on that coast had taken all they could lay hands on from the wreck.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY
Milton, Wis., Jan. 7, 1901.

The hog market has been booming during the last week and hogs are seventy-five cents more per hundred in the Chicago market than they were a year ago.

At the close of the week $5 was paid by local buyers for choice hogs. Nearly a carload was received here that came from beyond Rock River, one man coming seventeen miles, the brisk competition here forcing prices to a higher figure than other competing points pay.

The Hopple bunch of hogs mentioned last Saturday was sold to Clark Bros., Milton Junction and not to Vincent & Hassenger as stated in the item. The carload shipments for the week include three cars of hogs and one of cattle by Vincent & Hassenger, one car of tobacco by L. Bamberger and one of barley by G. R. Fetherston.

During the year 1900 Vincent & Hassenger have shipped 139 car loads of stock.

Mrs. Julia Johnson had her life saved at the hands of Brakeman Collins on George Corson's train by the narrow margin of a few inches Sunday forenoon. The old lady was between the tracks at the east end of the depot as the ten o'clock passenger pulled in and attempted to cross in front of the engine. The frantic yells of the bystanders failed to arrest her attention and the brave brakeman rushed down the platform to the rescue.

Her shawl came off in his hands at the first attempt but the second time he clutched her he dragged her from in front of the engine onto the platform not a second too soon.

Mr. Collins took his own life in his hands in the saving of that of Mrs. Johnson and is entitled to great credit for his nerve and courageous act and his presence of mind at a critical moment.

The annual dinner of the Seventh-day Baptist church and society was a success in all particulars.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

A melodrama that tells a coherent, straightforward story and is replete with thrilling situations and sensational climaxes as well and at the same time is well acted and carefully produced, is a rare combination in these days of trashy, so-called melodrama, which are usually written to exploit a saw mill or a steam engine; but this may honestly be said of "An American Gentleman," in which Mr. William Bonelli begins a starring tour and appears at the Myers Grand tomorrow night.

The text of "An American Gentleman" is in choice Queen's English; the dialogue is crisp and to the point; the comedy is lucid as well as ludicrous; the humor spontaneous and genuine; the effect natural and direct; the situations plausible, and the stirring climaxes cap a continuity of natural sequences. There is no laboring after an effect of sacrificing the plausibility of the situations, nor is there need of such, for "An American Gentleman" is an excellent story, well told, finely produced and intelligently acted, and honest of purpose.

There is no need to speak of the noble record earned by Mr. William Bonelli, as a sterling specimen of the heroic actor of today. His reputation is too solid in both New York and the provinces to need any commendation now, but suffice to say that his name at the head of any company is a guarantee of the high standing of the offering. Mr. Bonelli, as George Hathaway, in "An American Gentleman," will add fresh laurels to his career hitherto so successful.

Miss Rose Stahl, to whom will be entrusted the leading support, is an actress of rare ability, and it is safe to predict that William Bonelli, Rose Stahl and "An American Gentleman" will be a four leaf clover in the theatrical field of next season, and fortunate will be those who take occasion to pluck the opportunity of gathering this lucky emblem to their store of good things to be seen in the budding theatrical garden.

Home made bread, doughnuts and cookies. Home made graham on Wednesday and Saturday. W. W. Nash.

"A Hole in the Ground" by Hoyt was presented at the Myers Grand by a fairly competent company last night to a good sized audience. If there is a story connected with the thing no one has discovered it. The play was simply a continuous specialty performance, some of which were very good.

An alleged runaway couple was the basis upon which the specialties were hinged and the fun ran fast and furious. The show pleased the people present.

No Law Against Pocket Picking. Judge O'Neill of Eau Claire says there is no punishment provided by the Wisconsin statutes for a man caught attempting to pick pockets.

Frank Lewis who was arrested during a street fair in that city for attempting to pick the pockets of Dr. Noble, was discharged by the judge for that reason. He district attorney immediately had Lewis arrested on the charge of larceny.

Century Plans

Nearly all the leading denominations of the United States and England have new century forward schemes. The Methodists of England set the pace, and Methodists of the United States brought the idea over the ocean. The start was made for finances, and so it has come about that the religious emphasis of the new century observances is, on the whole, monetary, rather than spiritual. Smaller religious bodies, and also religious societies, have copied the idea, and there is at a moderate estimate, $100,000,000 asked by the religious bodies of the United States on the hinge of the advent of a new century. The English Wesleyans have already raised $5,000,000.

The Methodists—The followers of Wesley in the United States have no fewer than four century movements on hand. The principal of these is the raising of $20,000,000 with which to pay debts on churches, to strengthen charitable efforts, to endow colleges and to help the funds for aged ministers. To date almost exactly $10,000,000 has been subscribed, the largest part for church debts. The churches in different cities are organizing, some have already done so, and with the advent of the new year they will make combined efforts to raise a fund with which to pay off debts on all churches in their respective city limits. About $3,500,000 has been subscribed for educational purposes, and nearly $1,000,000 for philanthropies.

The Presbyterians—The main branches of this church, North and South have financial new century schemes on hand, and the former have a Sunday school membership plan. The moderator of the General Assembly North, the Rev. Charles A. Dickey of Philadelphia, is spending his entire time in the interest of money getting. Presbyterians seek to pay church debts, provide for local improvements, help the work of the synods, endow colleges and mission boards, an increase offering for work in China and other mission fields. There is a Sunday school movement which seeks to get 500,000 children into Presbyterian schools in addition to the 1,000,000 already there.

The Baptists—The suggestions made by the Baptists of the north are being adopted by the Baptists, white and colored, in the south. These suggestions have a slight reference to money matters. The only reference is a greater system in giving to all denominational benevolences. During the opening week of the new century many Baptist churches will hold all-day prayer meetings, and the fourth Thursday of January will be kept as a day of prayer for colleges. On the third Sunday in April Baptist ministers will preach on denominational progress during the century, and at the anniversaries next May one day will be given to speeches on Baptist achievement in all the world.

The Episcopalians—This denomination will make much of the approaching Lent, not alone in a religious sense, but also in the Sunday schools. Lent will see more services than ever before, and the children in the schools named will push their combined offerings for missions beyond the $100,000 limit, a stunt which they have never yet reached. The new Brotherhood of St. Andrew is trying to put new life into that organization, and a part of the plan is the holding of a summer instead of an autumn national convention this year.

The Catholics—For several years past the Roman Catholics have discussed the plan of taking a census of numbers and property throughout the world, with a view of publishing early in the new century the impressive facts or data in mass and so making before the world such a tremendous showing as only the Church of Rome could make, of material and spiritual achievement. The events of holy year, which ended Christmas, seems to have overshadowed the census scheme, at any rate the American churches are not yet in the work of taking this census.

Christian Endeavor—The Society of Christian Endeavor take note of the new century by recommending all state conventions during 1901 to hold celebrations and by appointing the Cincinnati convention in July as a time of special rejoicing. It happens that the endeavor movement is twenty years of age this year, and so a birthday and a new century are to be commemorated. It is also recommended that weak societies be strengthened and that a thank offering for missions be raised.

The Lutherans—The followers of the great German reformer are getting ready to observe with much formality the 400th anniversary of the reformation, inaugurated by Martin Luther. They talk of founding a Lutheran university as a memorial of the occasion. The date is 1517. It was in 1517 that he began to protest by his celebrated ninety-five propositions against the doctrine of the sale of indulgences which terminated in the Reformation.

The Congregationalists—This organization has particularly not entered into a new century scheme either here or in England. The only plan in hand is the raising of $250,000 with which to strengthen the American board of Missions.

The Universalists—This society will try to raise $200,000 for church extension. There are eastern and western divisions of the undertaking, and there is also a movement to increase church membership.

The Y. M. C. A.—The two branches of young people's associations in Christian work—young men and young women—will make a united and earnest effort to promote the work in which they are engaged with so much present success, but which they hope to enlarge to proportions far in excess of ordinary hopes.

The Salvation Army—Leaders in this field of Christian labor, contemplate new effort during the century. They have already organized practical movements to relieve distress among the lowly, and these will be enlarged. It is intended to locate colonies from the cities on western lands, and steps for that purpose have already been taken.

The Volunteers of America—This organization, like the Salvation Army, works in the streets and places where the regular denominations have been doing little. The officials of the Volunteers have large plans for the 20th century.

The Leagues—The Epworth League will work in connection with the Methodist church to increase membership and the Luther league in connection with the Lutheran church will do the same thing.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

THE SHIPPING BILL WILL NOT "GO OVER."

Fillibusters Disgusting Friends of the Army Bill—Letters Received by Senator Hanna—Practical and Patriotic Thoughts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Congress has reconvened after the holiday recess, and the work of getting legislation through before March 4 is under full swing. The senate is up to its ears in the consideration of the army reorganization bill, and, despite the statements to the contrary, it is assured of an early vote. In the house the subject of reapportionment is occupying attention as I write, and a hullabaloo is being raised by the representatives from certain sections of the south lest the disfranchised voters be eliminated from consideration in the fixing of the number of "male inhabitants over 21 years of age actually entitled to vote" as the basis of representation in future congresses. Enough has already transpired in this connection to show that the fears of the disfranchisers are thoroughly aroused.

The impression has gone abroad that the action of the senate in supplanting the shipping bill as unfinished business with the army reorganization bill places the former in the category of bills that are likely "to go over," and which means to fail for the lack of consideration. The impression is quite erroneous. The filibustering that goes on now is and can only be directed against the army bill, and it will be impossible for any one to assert that it is in order to defeat the shipping bill that the filibustering tactics are being resorted to in the senate. By the time the friends of the army reorganization bill have had a good full dose of filibustering they will be in no mood to encourage a further display of it in opposition to other important legislation.

Since Senator Hanna has blossomed out as an orator and a contributor to magazines he has been overwhelmed with letters of congratulation, of advice, and many contain stray bits of valuable information. It was my privilege to be permitted to go over one day's batch of letters he received bearing on the shipping subject, and some of them were very interesting. One man, for instance, from Oregon writes him as follows in part: "The press seems to have gone daft on the subject of 'tramp' steamships, as though no other class of vessels carried cargoes. You probably know, but seemingly many newspaper editors do not, that it is the regular line ships which build up trade, not tramps, the latter merely taking care of the overplusages at times. You are on the right track in legislating so as to establish direct lines of steamships to the ports of the world. They are the vessels that build up a nation's trade."

Another, a Democratic ex-member of congress from Georgia, writes him as follows, in part: "And it is upon this point [that providing for the admission of certain foreign built vessels owned by Americans] that I think the bill is so liberal. We in the south have believed that if foreign built vessels were placed under American registry we could as a nation do much to solve the 'shipping problem.' We have thought, too, that their admission would force our home builders to reduce their prices. But I saw very clearly in the Fifty-third congress that no such bill had even a ghost of a show of passing. I happen to know that nearly as many Democrats opposed it as Republicans, and I don't think this sentiment has changed. But your bill lets in, as I understand, 300,000 or 400,000 tons of foreign built ships on condition that their owners build new tonnage in our home yards as great as that admitted. This is a stroke of genius, and if Democrats reject this chance to get a partial free ship bill it seems to me they will never get another. You may make such use of this letter as you care to."

Strangely, in the same mail and from the north—right in New England, too—comes a strong expression of hostility "to letting any foreign built ships under our flag, much less to any subsidy, so long as we have shipbuilding material and builders to put it together in ships the equal of the best the world over." But this writer further says: "What I hope most to see result from a subsidy out is the construction of ships of the very highest speed, capable of outsteaming anything else afloat. These are the kind of ships we need and just as many of them as we can get. Don't be influenced by the clamor for 'tramps.' This is not a country where 'tramps' are welcome. We want something more respectable and more useful. One has but to go back to the Spanish-American war and remember the invaluable services of the swift steamships of our only line in the Atlantic trade to be able to realize the superior value of the very swiftest ships."

Senator Hanna's characteristic remark after reading over these suggestions was that they indicated that the object lessons of the Spanish-American war were by no means lost upon our intelligent citizens, and that patriotism is still far above partisanship with a vast majority of our people.

THE RELIGIOUS WORLD.

It has been the custom in this country to designate the first full week in January, as "a week of prayer," and this custom is generally observed by evangelical churches. The opening of a new century renders the occasion of peculiar significance at the present time, and this week, which has been dedicated to special service, will be known as the world's week of prayer and thus observed in thousands of churches in this and other countries.

The secular, as well as the religious press of the country, will be interested to note results; the former because everything that tends to elevate morality and extend the influence of Christianity is regarded as sacred and of vital import, and the latter because in close touch with the movement.

United and consecrated effort along any line of work is always helpful. In the business world combinations are effected, and men brought close together for the purpose of mutual advantage. As a result trade is extended, capital protected and business revived.

In the churches a warfare is constantly waging between right and wrong, and the common enemy, sin, has so much in common, that a solid front is always presented.

The religious world comprises a multitude of churches, a vast army of workers, and a variety of creeds, yet all working for one common object, the uplifting of humanity, and the spread of the Master's kingdom.

A week of prayer and consecration will rekindle dormant energies and inspire new courage for the conflict, and should result in great good. It is hoped by the churches that following a week of consecration may be a revival spirit that will spread over the land like some of the great revivals of earlier days. Not a season of emotion and excitement, but of genuine revival, noted for loyalty to the faith of the fathers, and a widespread influence, working like leaven in the hearts of men for good.

If the church as an organization has a besetting sin today, it is not so much the sin of worldliness as the sin of weakness. A disposition to drift away from the old land marks, and take up some new dogma. The recruits for all the new fangled creeds that have sprung into existence during the past decade, are largely taken from the ranks of Christian churches. A revival that is controlled by the spirit of the Master will steady the faith of the tottering, and check the tendency of drifting.

The spirit of worship is universal, and almost every man possesses some kind of a religious belief. This is just as true of the heathen as of the Christian. The church of the living God, especially in this land, should control and monopolize religious thought and belief, and when that bright day is realized the nation will be a Christian nation in fact, as well as in name.

MAIL CONTRACTS.

After an endless search through a maze of blundering testimony, the joint commission of congress, appointed to investigate the railway mail service, is prepared to report. This investigation was demanded by Mr. Acker, a Philadelphia business man, who, in a carefully prepared argument, apparently proved beyond question, that the government was paying many times the actual cost of transportation. Prof. Adams, of the University of Michigan, was employed as an expert, and found Mr. Acker had made a serious blunder in his statistics. However, Prof. Adams was later compelled to acknowledge his opinions were based on an erroneous "Fundamental law of transportation."

In the comedy of errors, the joint commission felt the force of Socrates' discovery—"The awareness of knowing nothing," and have finally adopted a new cost of service, principle, simple and sound originated by W. W. Baldwin, of the C. B. & Q. Ry. The conclusion of the commission, after two years' hard work, is that the railroads are not overcharging Uncle Sam for carrying the mails.

The fact that this nation is the richest on the face of the globe, does not diminish the obligation of congressmen to exercise judgment and business discrimination in voting appropriations. The rivers and harbors bill, as well as naval and military bills, often conceal frauds which could not be perpetrated upon private business corporations, because of the care and vigilance exercised in personal supervision of labor and material contracted for.

The fourteenth amendment leaves congress no option or discretion. It directs and specifies the doing of things, and congress can not disregard this obligation. In four southern states the vote at the last election was less than one-third of the vote polled at previous elections, and this in view of the increase in population, Crumpacker and Olmstead may fall in their efforts at reapportionment, but they will give congressmen something to think about.

American capital has invaded the ground beneath London's streets, and now comes the news that American excursion boats are to invade the Thames. When an American lobby invades the House of Lords, English nobility might as well move across the Atlantic.

When the democrats accuse President McKinley's appointment of Judge Harlan the result of personal interests in the decision of the supreme court, they must be reminded that no such accusations were made when Cleveland appointed a republican secretary of state, or when Harrison appointed a democratic supreme court justice.

Governor Pingree's long-drawn-out moan reminds us that statesmen out of office are generally the only men who foresee the destruction of the nation, and the only way it can be averted.

REPORT SALES ON NORTH MAIN STREET

An Offer to Buy the East Half of All the Lots in Blocks 37 and 38.

The mystery surrounding the sale of lots in blocks 35 and 36 of the original plat of Janesville is deepened by an offer that has been made by parties said to be working in the interests of the railroad company to buy the east half of all the lots fronting on Main street in blocks 37 and 38.

If these purchases are made it will give the party buying the land a strip extending from Pease Court to North Fifth street or from the land recently purchased by Towne and Inman to an alley way between Bluff and Main street which extends right up to within a few feet of the right of way of the C. & N. W. R. R.

People who claim to know what they are talking about say that the C. & N. W. R. R. company are trying to buy this land in order that they may get a spur track down to the warehouses which are to be built in the spring on the land purchased by Towne and Inman.

The C. M. & St. P. R. R. now has tracks on North Main street down to this property and the only way by which the Northwestern could reach the property would be buying a right of way through the center of the blocks between their right of way and the point desired to be reached.

TREASURER'S REPORT FOUND TO BE O. K.

Common Council in Regular Session Last Night—Street Railway Given Until July 1.

Mayor Richardson presided over the first regular meeting of the common council for the present century last evening. All of the aldermen were present except Valentine and Sennett. The reading of the minutes of the last regular meeting was dispensed with.

The report of the city treasurer for the month of December was referred to the finance committee and later accepted and placed on file. The municipal court report for December was referred to the judiciary committee who reported it correct and it was ordered placed on file.

Mrs. Carrie Griswold was given a rebate of $1.77 to correct an error in her personal property tax.

The clerk was instructed to draw an order for $129.68 in favor of P. W. Ryan being the balance due him for work on South Jackson street.

The sum of $2,150 was ordered paid over to the treasurer of Rock county this sum being due the county, from forty-three saloon licenses at $50 each.

M. M. Fardy was granted a rebate of $21.28 to straighten out an error in his assessment for 1900.

The judiciary committee reported that the claim of Rose Haag for $5,000 personal damages was not explicit enough and asked that she or her attorneys file a statement of damages outside her personal injuries.

The ordinance framed with a view of protecting the water pipes, telephone lines and gas mains from electrocution by the current used by the street railway was read and caused considerable debate.

The ordinance as it was originally gave the street railway company until August first to make the needed improvements.

Wm. G. Wheeler was present and was given permission to address the meeting. He thought that August 1st was more time than was really needed to make these improvements. That if the appliances were at hand the line could be fixed within a month after the frost was out of the ground and would ask that the time be set not later than June first.

Aldermen Gilkey and Riceboth stated that they had taken all these things into consideration when the matter came up and in order to do justice to all parties concerned fixed upon August first as about the right time. If they could be shown that the work could be done sooner they would be in favor of cutting down the time to an earlier date. The railway company could not do the work until the frost was out of the ground.

Alderman McLean said he was in favor of making it July first and did not think that the frost cut much figure.

C. S. Jackman of the water company stated that they had a mile of pipe to lay six feet under ground and that they expected to have it all laid before May first. They had to dig about six feet into the earth and the street railway company about six inches.

Alderman McLean moved that the time be changed to July first which was carried.

Alderman Rice moved that the rules be suspended and that the ordinance be given its third reading as amended, which was carried. Alderman Rice then moved the adoption of the amendment which was carried. The resolution ordering the publication of the ordinance was carried.

Permission was granted H. Kirk White to transfer his druggists permit to W. F. McCue.

The ordinance granting the C. & N. W. R. R. the right to lay and maintain a spur track to the Wholesale Grocery Co.'s building was given its third reading and passed. All of the aldermen voted for it with the exception of Alderman Judd.

A petition asking that the city engineer establish a curb line on Garfield avenue was carried.

BYRNE TELLS HIS STORY IN COURT

SAID BROWN AND MACLEAN FIRST ATTACKED HIM.

Forcible Disposition Case On Trial in the Municipal Court—Judge Says There is a Conflict of Testimony and Holds Case Until He Can Look it Up Further.

The case of the state of Wisconsin against William Byrne arrested on the charge of assault and battery came up for trial this morning in the municipal court, E. H. Ryan and John Fisher appeared for the defendant.

John Brown, the complaining witness was first sworn. He described going up into Byrne's office with C. C. MacLean to get possession of the room. They walked into the room and Byrne ordered them out and threatened to throw cold lead at them at the same time reaching for his hip pocket. He caught Byrne by the arms and with MacLean help put him out of the room and took him down stairs and out into River street. Here Byrne was let go and he immediately struck Brown in the face and he struck back. Byrne continued to fight and he took hold of him on one side and with MacLean on the other started for the lock-up. Byrne fought all the way down and kicked him several times, but finally with the assistance of John Brennan he landed Byrne in the lock-up.

John Brennan was next called for the state and testified to helping Brown take Byrne to the lock-up.

William Byrne was the first witness for the defense. He resided in this city and was sixty-one years of age. He first saw Brown in his office on December 6 about eleven o'clock in the morning. He was sitting down at his desk reading when Brown, MacLean and others entered his office. He ordered them to get out of the room at the same time getting up out of his chair and reaching around to his hip pocket for his keys. His back was towards Brown. The first thing he knew Brown had him by the right arm and shoulder and MacLean by the left.

They dragged him out of the room, down the hall and out onto River street. When he reached the bottom of the stairs he slipped and fell and when he regained his feet he kicked Brown in the rear extremities and at that he basted him a series of blows on the face and temples and dragged him down to the lock-up. Here he asked to see several persons including the mayor, a doctor and his attorney, E. H. Ryan, but the lock-up keeper refused to get anyone. He did not strike Brown as at no time were his hands loose from the time that they caught hold of him up in his office until he arrived at the lock-up.

In summing up the case Judge Field stated there was a conflict of testimony that Brown and MacLean entering Byrne's office without process of law and putting him out constituted an assault, but there was a rule of law he believed that said one assault did not justify another and as there was one or two points that he wished to look up he would hold the case open until two o'clock.

The case was called at two o'clock this afternoon and as there were some authorities that the judge could not find by consent of parties the case was adjourned until Thursday, January 10 at ten o'clock.

FISH AND GAME WARDEN

Annual Report Shows That in 1900 32,037 Hunting Licenses Were Issued in the Badger State.

The report of State Fish and Game Warden Ellarson just submitted to Governor Scofield shows that in 1900 32,037 hunting licenses were issued, of which 231 were to non-residents, and the license fees received aggregated $32,316, a decrease of about $3,500 from the previous year. More deer were killed last year than in 1899, the number shipped in 1900 being 2,568 and the year previous 1,953; of the former 104 were killed by non-residents.

The report calls attention to the loss of life during the deer season, twelve persons having been reported killed and a large number more or less injured last year, and says some means should be devised to lessen the danger.

Mr. Ellarson expresses the hope that the movement on foot to secure the repeal of the law prohibiting spring shooting will fail, and says that it is only a matter of time when other states must follow the lead of Wisconsin in the matter.

During the past year 342 persons have been arrested in Wisconsin for violation of the game laws, and there were 190 seizures of nets, spears, etc. The fines collected amounted to $4,800; and convictions were secured in all but twenty-one cases.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Blodgett Connors, 9 South Franklin street was held from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock this morning. Rev. Father W. A. Goebel officiated. The interment was in the Edgerton cemetery.

The funeral of the late T. B. Bailey was held from the family residence in Beloit this afternoon at two o'clock. The services were largely attended by relatives and friends from all parts of the state.

OBSERVES HIS 72ND BIRTHDAY

Col. W. B. Britton's Family Represented in Three Wars—Valuable Souvenir of His Grandfather.

Colonel William B. Britton today observes his seventy-second birthday and a number of his neighbors and friends will take pleasure this evening in reminding him of the fact. On Sept. 11 Mr. and Mrs. Britton will celebrate their golden wedding. This worthy couple have been residents of Janesville for nearly forty years. About ten years ago Colonel Britton retired from active business and is now enjoying the sunset of his life in peace and plenty.

Colonel Britton who won his spurs in the civil war comes of good fighting stock. His father served in the war of 1812 and his grandfather in the revolution. Had he a son he doubtless would have distinguished himself in the late unpleasantness with Spain.

A valued souvenir of his revolutionary grandfathers is a one dollar bill paid to him for his services as a soldier. The inscription is as follows: "Colonel of New York. This bill shall pass current in all payments in the colony for one Spanish milled dollar or the value thereof in gold or silver according to the resolution of the provincial congress of New York on the fifth day of March, 1776."

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLASS SESSION

Man Considered from the Original Protoplasm—His Concept of the Material Universe.

Mrs. Folkmar's class in social science met last evening in Wheeler's office in the postoffice block and considered that point in man's development in which he speculates on creation. His progress was briefly based from the original protoplasm up to the time that he was so far advanced as to fashion rude weapons and tools out of stone. In his religious concepts he had passed from fetishism through polytheism up to monotheism.

It was shown that his ideas of the creation of the universe were theological, metaphysical and scientific. The first covered the period from the stone age up to the middle of the fourteenth century, during which time the progress of the race was very slow.

The second obtained from the fourteenth to the eighteenth century and showed a marked advance over the preceding period. The third began in the 18th and is still in force, the time period showing greater development than during the vast ages from the polished stone age up to the beginning of the past century.

The scientific conception has de-throned man from his lofty and absurd position and has shown that he is an infinitesimal speck in the cosmic universe. Instead of requiring an act of special creation he was made to take his proper place in the evolutionary scale, and trot along in the procession not far from the antapoids.

Some time was spent in considering the proposed new marriage laws in this state which have in view to prevent the perpetuation of the physical and mental degenerates. The next session will deal with the religion of the future as viewed from a scientific standpoint.

FAST FREIGHTS ARE TO BE ABOLISHED

They Are Mainly Responsible for the Demoralization of Freight Rates Throughout the Country.

The conclusion has lately been reached by the magnates that the large number of practically fast freight lines now maintained by the railroads of this country are mainly responsible for the constant demoralization of freight rates, it being found almost impossible to prevent the agents from these lines from cutting rates. The conviction seems to have taken ground that if these fast freight lines were wiped out or amalgamated so as to be able to control them the same results would be accomplished as were reached by abolishing commissions, not only would there be a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars that is now paid to numberless agents, but the tendency, to rate cutting or rate manipulation in freight traffic would be removed. The plan now promised is to have in each city or shipping point one man to represent all the different roads. The joint agent at each shipping point is to see that each road that he represents will receive a proportionate share of the business. At least 10,000 high priced railroad officials, it is asserted, will, if this plan is carried out find themselves out of employment and the combined railroad interests will be enriched to this extent.

TELEPHONE STOCK CHANGES OWNERS

Reasons for Stopping Work on the Local Lines—It is Said To Be Only Temporary.

Janesville is not the only city in which the work of rebuilding lines of the Wisconsin Telephone company has been suspended. A large force of men employed by this company rebuilding the lines in Madison have been laid off and the work stopped.

The stoppage is said to be due to an inquiry now being made by eastern capitalists who are putting up the money into the large expenditures being made by the Wisconsin company, all over the state. The Wisconsin is now really a part of the Erie company, and a controlling interest in the Erie was recently acquired by the Telephone, Telegraph & Cable company of America. The latter has now sold to an eastern syndicate of capitalists a large portion of its holding of Erie telephone stock, and an examination is being made.

The local manager of the company expresses confidence that the stoppage is only temporary and that it will be resumed and completed along the original lines soon.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS..

LODGE WANTS STRONG ARMY.

Notable Speech by the Massachusetts Senator.

COLLOQUY WITH MR. BACON.

In Conclusion Senator Lodge Draws a Brilliant Word Picture of the Commercial Future of the United States—House on Reapportionment.

Washington, Jan. 8.—A notable speech was delivered in the senate by Mr. Lodge (Mass.). Addressing the senate on the amendment of the military committee striking out the provision in the army reorganization bill for a veterinary corps, he discussed briefly and principally in the form of a colloquy with Senator Bacon (Ga.) the Philippine question and the necessity for an army of 100,000 men. In conclusion he drew a brilliant word picture of the commercial future of the United States, declaring that the trade conflict with Europe already begun could result only in the commercial and economic supremacy of this country over the entire world. In this industrial conflict he apprehended no danger from a material contest with any nation of the world, but he urged the necessity for a strong and scientifically organized army and a powerful navy in order that the United States might be prepared to defend its rights against any possible foe.

During the afternoon the senate ratified the committee's proposition to eliminate the house provision for the establishment of a veterinary corps in the army. Senator Teller (Col.) gave notice of a substitute he will offer for the entire pending measure, continuing in full force and effect the act of March 3, 1899, increasing the size of the army, for three years from July 1, 1901.

To Vote on Redistricting.

The animated debate in the house on the reapportionment of representation from the various states is nearing its close, it being unanimously agreed that the final vote will be taken before the session closes tomorrow. It was expected that there would be a sequel today to the exciting clash between Mr. Littlefield (Me.) and Mr. Hopkins (Ill.). But the latter made no effort at rejoinder and contented himself with the direction of the measure toward the final vote. He expresses confidence that the bill bearing his name will be passed tomorrow, although there may be a slight change giving an additional member to Florida, Colorado and North Dakota, bringing the total membership up to 360. The notable speaker of the day were by Mr. Crumpacker (Ind.), dealing with alleged disfranchisement in the south; by Mr. Hepburn (Iowa), severely arraigning the present rules as annihilating the constitutional prerogatives of the house, and by Mr. Grow (Pa.), comparing the old system in the house with that of the present.

Urges Construction of Canal.

Senator Morgan presented part IV. of the report of the senate committee on interoceanic canals on the project of an isthmian waterway. It is chiefly interesting in being a reaffirmation that the house bill now pending in the senate providing for the construction of the Nicaragua canal "furnishes the true, safe and honorable method of dealing with the rights, power and duties with an isthmian canal."

The report treats the Nicaragua route as the one "selected finally,"

stating that the decisive vote in the house—225 to 25—determines the location, "so that it remains only to vindicate that decision against the pretensions of the Panama route." The report urges in detail the advantages of the Nicaragua route over all others. It sets forth what is stated to be "conclusive proof of the fatal defect of the Panama route," the complications in the way of having the United States take up the Panama route, etc.

Protests Against a Bath.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 8.—When Matron Heister of the city infirmary today went to bathe Mrs. Anna Bangs, who is a cousin of Cornelius Vanderbilt, and who was sent to the institution Saturday, Mrs. Bangs protested. ## More Witnesses on Hazing.

Philadelphia, Jan. 8.—The congressional committee appointed for the purpose of inquiring into the hazing of Oscar L. Booz of Bristol, Pa., and John Breth of Altoona, Pa., former cadets, resumed the taking of testimony at the Lafayette hotel today. The committee had fixed 9 o'clock for the beginning of the day's work, but it was 10 before the first witness was sworn. Members of the Breth family, firmly believing that John Breth died indirectly of hazing at West Point, and Anthony Burnham of Frankfort, Ky., Booz' tenant, were heard. None of these witnesses testified before the military board of inquiry.

Two Bodies Found in Canal.

Petersburg, Ind., Jan. 8.—The drying up of the old Wabash and Erie canal near this city has revealed the bones of a man and a woman. It is believed the discovery explains the disappearance of Lillian O'Ryan and Patrick Toole, half a century ago. They were lovers and went for a stroll one moonlight night. They were never seen again. The presumption now is that she refused to marry him and that he murdered her and then committed suicide. The bodies lodged under one of the timbers of the lock. Near the bones of the woman was found a plain gold band ring with the initials "L. R." engraved on it.

For Wisconsin Marriage Bill.

TALE OF THE ORIENT.

MURPHY PASHA ORATES ON THE ART OF MANAGING DONKEYS.

Tries to Put His Theories Into Practice. With Results That For Some Time Threaten to Prove Disastrous to Two of His Subjects.

One day, old Murphy Pasha, ruler of all Persia and a large slice of the rest of the world, was out riding with his courtiers, he came across a peasant who was pulling hard at a rope attached to the neck of an ass. The ass was sagging back on his haunches, and it was a question whether he would be pulled ahead or have his neck pulled off.

“By the corns of my grandfather but what a fool that man is,” exclaimed the king as he came to a halt. “Hoi thou idiot, I would speak to thee.” The peasant let fall the rope and came forward and rubbed his nose on the earth to prove his humility, and the king continued:

“Do my eyes deceive me when I see a man of 50 pulling to get an ass along? In all these years haven’t you learned that the way to treat an obstinate beast is to push from behind?” “I dared not push on account of his heels, O ruler,” replied the man.

“But what have his heels to do with it?”

“They are on springs, O wise and beneficent, and are apt to fly upward at a touch.”

“I never heard of such a thing. Ho, Abraham, grand secretary of agriculture, what is this about asses? Isn’t the proper way to push ‘em along?” “It might work, O pasha, but I have been too busy with onions and turnips to try it.”

“Did you ever hear of springs on the heels of an ass?”

“In a dim, undefined way, O mighty.”

“Well, I never did, and here goes to find out about it. I want to know what I’m running in this country.”

It was in vain that the grand secretary, secretary of war, high chamberlain, Murphy Pasha was a determined man when he got his dander up, and he swung out of his saddle and approached the ass.

“O king, but I am afraid of a jar,” said the peasant, with alarm on his face. “Please poke him with a fence rail when you look for springs.”

“Not by the hat of Sardanapalus! Here, you old beast, get along with you! Now, then, heave, oh, heave!”

Twenty minutes later the mighty ruler opened his eyes to find ammonia at his nose and ice on his stomach, and when he asked if the earthquake had killed any one his grand secretary replied:

“O high and mighty, but the heels of the ass were on springs, and the springs worked.”

“In other words,” said the king, “I’ve been kicked into the middle of next week by an ass?”

“That’s about it, O king.”

“I see. As I pushed he kicked. Well, I can’t let things go this way. Grand secretary, for not knowing more about asses you are benched from your position; peasant, for not knowing all about ‘em you shall receive 50 lashes.”

“But we ask for justice!” cried both men together.

“Then you shall exchange places.”

“But it was the ass that did it!” they chorused again.

“Then he shall die.”

“O ruler,” said the peasant, “if you had kept away from the ass’ heels you wouldn’t have been kicked.”

“Ah, that’s something like,” replied the king as he rose up. “As it now transpires that there were two asses instead of one, and as it is hard to tell which ass was most to blame, we’ll call the whole thing off and go over and look at those pumpkins. I want to know how the seeds get inside ‘em.”
